

My first cable was cablevision. I switched from to cablevision to directv My reason for switching from cablevision to directv was because that did not have all the channel and they still don't channels like soapnet, Fx Trio, and a few more their prices are high. I had to switch back to cablevision because I live in NYCHA (public housing). I know that all the other cable companies have all these channels and their price are just about the same. People in in long Island, Bensonhurst, and but they don't have them in bedford stuyvesant, crown Heights. But they have it down on the package plan, I am paying for the highest plan. I think I should have all channels could you please look into this for me and get back to me. thank you
